LINE OF DEMARCATION
IN TRIPLE ALLIANCE
IS ABOUT TO BREAK

LEADING DIPLOMATS ADMIT SITUATION IS CRITICAL AND NO PERSON CAN TELL WHAT THE OUTCOME WILL BE.

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—German diplomats admitted today for the first time that the line of demarcation between the triple alliance (Germany, Austria and Italy) and the tri leatene (England, France and Russia) has been drawn to the breaking point and any sudden pressure either way might precipitate the most bloody war in the history of the world.

One of the leading German diplomats today said: "We are hoping, but there seems to be more preparation than hope, and no person can tell what the next 24 hours will bring forth."

It is reported that Italy and Austria are preparing a joint protest to the Greek government, carrying with it a demand for an explanation for Greece continuing hostilities.

Greece Signs Armistice—

PARIS, Dec. 6.—Greece signed the general armistice, bringing about a termination of the Turkish-Balkan war, according to a dispatch received here today from Constantinople. French diplomats claim the credit for swinging Greece into line.

Give Turkey Until Jan. 7—

SOFIA, Dec. 6.—It was officially announced today that Turkey must agree to the peace treaty by Jan. 7.

THE DAILY MARKET REPORT.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Stocks opened generally a shade lower today with the exception of Woolworth, Western Union and General Electric, which were each a half higher. Later the prices became steady, but by noon stocks were weak and prices began to slowly recede. By this time Steel, Copper and Southern Pacific were one and a half lower. Cotton broke sharply and was from 10c to 17c lower on Giles' estimate that the crop would be 14,250,000 bales; January was quoted at $12.41 and May at $12.34.

The Chicago Markets—

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—December wheat, 84 7-8; May pork, $18.77; lard, $10.22; ribs, $10; hogs a shade higher and cattle steady.

TAFT LEAVES TARIFF TO DEMOCRATS

HIS MESSAGE TO CONGRESS
BARELY MENTIONS SUBJECT

MOST OF THE COMMUNICATION IS DEVOTED TO FISCAL, JUDICIAL, MILITARY AND INSULAR AFFAIRS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The second of a series of short messages which President Taft has prepared for the guidance of congress during the short session was read in both houses today. The message was devoted to fiscal, judicial, military and insular affairs.

The president stated that trade conditions in the United States were never in a better condition and that the country was apparently well on the way toward an unexampled period of prosperity. He recommended reforms, however, in the present banking laws, characterizing this legislation as the "crying need of the country." The plan advocated by the president as one which would rehabilitate banking and currency was that proposed by the monetary commission in its report in February, 1910.

The president also urged the enactment of the workmen's compensation (continued on page four)

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—J. C. Mallory, a retired major of the United States army and a member of the most exclusive society sets of New York and Philadelphia, committed suicide this morning by leaping from a window on the tenth floor of the Manhattan hotel.

The major was clad only in his pajamas and was crushed to death when his body struck the sidewalk. The suicide was dramatic and was witnessed by nearly 100 persons. When the body struck the sidewalk it barely missed a young woman pedestrian, who fainted at the spectacle. Melancholia is ascribed as the reason for the suicide.

The grand jury at Jacksonville has returned true bills against John Strongheart, the Indian, on charges of impersonating a federal officer and the Indian will be tried Monday, December 16. Supenas to appear as witnesses in the case were received this morning by Mayor Henry T. Titus, W. K. Macbeth and C. B. Williams.

MARSHALL FAVORS HOLDING INAUGURATION MARCH 4TH

VICE PRESIDENT-ELECT SAYS HE IS NOT AFRAID OF WEATHER AND WILL BE READY FOR THE CEREMONY.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Vice President-elect Marshall said today he will be ready and waiting for the inauguration in Washington, March 4, in spite of weather conditions and the proposed switching of the inauguration to a later date.

"You can't very well have a bridal breakfast six weeks after the wedding ceremony," said Governor Marshall. "I am in favor of holding the inauguration on the regular day, am not afraid of the weather and will be ready for business at noon, March 4."

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pence of Springboro, Ohio, Mrs. Parker of Dayton, Ohio, accompanied by H. E. Pence of Minneapolis, Minn., arrived Thursday afternoon and registered at the Morgan hotel, preparatory to going to the winter home of H. E. Pence on South Palmetto avenue. H. E. Pence is only here temporarily to get his parents and Mrs. Parker established in his house, until the cottage now being erected for them on Palmetto avenue is completed and ready for their occupancy.

"GO TO HELL" SAYS BLEASE TO GOVERNORS

SOUTH CAROLINA EXECUTIVE
CENSURED BY CONFERENCE

EXECUTIVES OF OTHER STATES DO NOT LIKE SENTIMENTS EXPRESSED ON LYNCH LAW AND MOB RULE.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 6.—By a vote of 14 to four the governors' conference today adopted a resolution censuring Governor Cole L. Blease of South Carolina for his sentiment expressed recently in a speech to the conference, on lynch law and mob rule.

"You can all go to hell," yelled Governor Blease when the result of the vote was announced.

A total of 25 of the governors expressed their disapproval of the Johnson-Cameron wedding in Chicago. Blaming the great financial interests of the country for the lack of proper "rural credit" for American farmers, and declaring that the United States and Great Britain are lamentably behind the other great world powers in taking care of their agriculturalists, Governor O'Neil of Alabama today told the governors the inner history of the "rural credit" movement. He added a strong plea for its more general adoption in this country because the farmers are now compelled to apply to loan brokers and private individuals and required to not only pay exorbitant rates of interest, but also heavy commissions.

ANOTHER FORGERY IS UNCOVERED

HENRY SCHMIDT CASHES
TWO WORTHLESS CHECKS

HOTEL PROPRIETOR "STUNG" FOR $173.75 BY FORMER CIGAR SALESMAN WHO MADE THIS TERRITORY.

Another check forgery, one by which Henry Schmidt of this city stands to lose the amounts called for by two checks amounting to $173.75, has just come to light through notice of the protest of the checks by the Lumberman's National bank of Houston, Texas.

The two checks, one for $38 and the other for $135.75, were given to Mr. Schmidt two weeks ago by J. E. Davis, who stopped at Schmidt's hotel, with a woman he claimed to be his bride, and left soon after the checks were cashed for Miami. He said he was on his way to South America and claimed the checks were for salary due him.

Mr. Davis has been known to Mr. Schmidt for the past seven years, when he was traveling through the state as a representative of a St. Augustine cigar firm. About four years ago he made his last visit to Daytona, and from that time until last month Mr. Schmidt had not seen the man.

Mr. Davis arrived here and registered with his wife at Schmidt's hotel November 22, telling Mr. Schmidt he was married in Boston ten days previous to the day of their arrival. The couple remained at the hotel until Nov. 25, when they left for Miami, saying they would stay in the Magic City for a few days and then proceed to South America for a month's stay, and that they would return to Daytona January 7.

Mr. Davis represented himself as a past exalted ruler of the St. Augustine lodge of Elks and during the time he was at the hotel here received by mail, as Mr. Schmidt saw him take it from the envelope, a check for $135.75, dated at Millville, Texas, Nov. 15, 1912, and drawn by Meyers Brothers & Co. on the Lumberman's National bank of Houston, made payable to J. E. Davis. The man explained to Mr. Schmidt that the check was for salary due him and the paper, as the smaller check had been previously, was cashed by Mr. Schmidt.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis left here November 25 for Miami, leaving the hotel proprietor in blissful ignorance that the checks cashed were worthless.

Last Sunday Mr. Schmidt was visited by a Burns Agency detective, who was hot on the trail of Mr. Davis, and had been following him for several days in the state of Florida, trying to capture the man for a check forgery in Atlanta. This (continued on page eight)

Manager Wm. S. Kenney, of the Mount Washington (Bretton Woods, N. H.) and Clarendon hotels, arrived Tuesday night, in company with Mrs. Kenney and went to the Mayfield for a few days' stay. Mr. Kenney anticipates a big season for the Clarendon from the heavy bookings already made. The big hotel will open Jan. 4.

The town council met in regular session Monday night but not much business of importance was transacted. It was decided to postpone marling several of the side streets until January. It was ordered that the lot south of William Miller's place be fire-guarded. No appointment for town marshal has yet been made to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Leo Burgman, which was to have been effective December 1.

A delightful little neighborhood affair took place Monday evening on the Wilcox houseboat, Manatee, in the nature of a farewell surprise party to Artist Wilcox, who moved his boat to the Daytona side Tuesday morning. Mrs. Wilcox was taken into the conspiracy, and Mr. Wilcox was dispatched on some errand that would keep him away from home from five to six o'clock. When he returned he was invited to the boat, which was illuminated and things in progress for a delicious nautical spread. Here he was greeted by the smiling faces of his good neighbors, and was soon seated at the festive board among them. T. R. Simpson was the toastmaster, and the responses were made by Dr. A. T. Bigelow, R. C. Watterson and M. Wilcox and his father. There were 12 or 14 friends present.

The Sun Sout club met with Mrs. J. Ralph Wilcox Friday afternoon of last week. After the regular order of procedure, the president, Miss Thorp, opened the meeting with a good talk, setting forth a policy for the club; recommending regular organization and the adoption of a constitution and by-laws to take the place of the present standing rules. The president also urged the members to seriously consider the question of enlarging the membership with the ultimate view of building a club home for the two towns. The president was followed by an interesting talk by Mrs. J. P. Esch on the last meeting of the State Federation at West Palm Beach, from which she had recently returned. This talk was followed by one of Mrs. Chas. H. Raynor's best on the Biennial, which she attended as a delegate at San Francisco, Cal., in the early summer. The subject of the afternoon, proper, was then taken up by Mr. Wilcox, who gave a practical, comprehensive talk on "The Making of a Picture." The lecture was illustrated with a fine exhibit of the artist's work and was very much enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Wilcox was in charge of the afternoon and a number of visitors were present. The social hour, during which light refreshments were served, was available for pleasant relaxation and enjoyment. The next meeting (Dec. 12) will be held at the home of Mrs. J. P. Esch, and will consist of a musical program.

News comes of the death of Miss Ella Burkhardt, of Brooklyn, N. Y., which took place in Chicago, Ill., where she was under medical treatment, sometime last week. Miss Burkhardt was at one time closely associated with friends in Seabreeze and owned residential property on the river front at the time of her death.

E. B. Case, the ever true and popular winter visitor, arrived on scheduled season time last week and has his old rooms at the Burgman pleasant home.

Paul Dobbs, of Blackwell, Ga., who came to Florida for his health, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Benson at their place on Halifax avenue, north, going from this place to New Smyrna.

Mrs. M. J. Murphy is having numerous improvements made at her attractive home on Ocean boulevard. An artesian well with a fine flow has been put down and the pump and engine for a waterworks system has been received.

Mrs. D. C. Rankin, who went to Atlanta last week to try the benefit of a change, writes that she is greatly improved and enjoying her visit with relatives very much.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Randall are pleasantly anticipating a visit from Mr. Randall's brother, F. C. Randall, and family, of Benton Harbor, Mich., during the season.

W. N. Manchester has had his front porch neatly screened and improved his lawn by setting it to flowering shrubs and roses.

Miss Claire Tomlinson, who has charge of the library at Wesleyan college, Macon, Ga., will spend the Christmas holidays at home.

Mrs. M. A. Crouch, mother of Mrs. Weaver, is spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Weaver at the Ellen on Atlantic avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Martin arrived from Iowa this week and are at their new apartment house on Atlantic avenue.

Merryday brothers have purchased adjoining and north of the Findlay home on Atlantic, which they are now using to store the lumber for the Neptune hotel.

Mrs. James A. Wiggs and three children and friend, Miss Garby, of Chattanooga, Tenn., arrived Tuesday and are with Mrs. McCullough at the Glenwood.

He Knew Teacher.

"A small boy dropped into a store on the North Side on his way to school to get some candy," says the Holton Signal. "While he was looking over the assortment displayed in the case the salesman called his attention to some fresh lemon drops. 'Now,' the boy said, 'Gimme some jelly beans. I want something the teacher can't hear me eat.' Teacher can hear a feller eat lemon drops clear across the room."—Kansas City Star.

Provides for Care of Dumb Animals.

A new club appealing to lovers of dumb animals is in the course of formation in London, under the patronage of many well-known people. A novel departure will be the dogs' cloakroom, consisting of premises, with attendants, which will be utilized for the purpose of taking charge of members' dogs when visiting the club. Boarding the animals at the club will be one of the features, and there will be a catering section where dogs can have their meals.

Origin of Popular Saying.

The origin of the saying that it takes nine tailors to make a man is thought by some to be a corruption of "nine tellers make a man," the "tellers" being another name for "tolls" of a bell. The English custom was to strike three times three tolls or "tellers" on the passing bell for the death of a man. It was three times two for a woman.

Fleeting Shade.

"By jove, I am glad to see you looking so gay and festive!" said Mr. Olde Friend. "You were all in black the last time I saw you." "Yea," demurely replied Mrs. Brown, who had just taken a second husband; "but it wasn't a fast black."—Judge.

Then It's Done.

Limit of the Borrowing Habit.

Little Margie was a frequent visitor at the Jones home, going there on errands of borrowing many times each day. On this occasion she asked the loan of a cooking utensil. But Mrs. Jones had become very much out of patience at the continual borrowing and sent word by Margie that she "had other fish to fry."

Imagine her surprise when in a few moments her neighbor's little Margie again appeared in her doorway, slipping:

A Difference.

"Ever since I was done converted last week," remarked a certain colored citizen in a chastenedly-triumphant tone, "muh conscience gnaws me when I thinks o' what a sinner I was befo' I seed de blessed light. I was false to de Lawd and untrue to muh tellermen, and muh conscience gnaws—"

"Do it gnaw yo' enough. Brudder Bogus," grimly interrupted old Brother Gumpshun, "to make yo' pay me back dem four-dollars yo' borried off'm me yeh be?"

"W'y—w'y, sah!—yo' knows how clost de times is, dese days, and—Well, sah, here's haffer-dollah, dat I'll pay yo' now, and—"

"Huh! If dat's de best yo' kin do, sah, yo' conscience ain't gnawin'—It's dess uh-nibblin'."—Satire.

Learning From the Fish.

"That's the tenth can of sardines you have ordered," said the railway magnate. "Aren't you afraid you will make yourself sick?" "I'm not eating them," replied the employee with inventive genius. "I think I'm on the track of a way to get more people into a street car."

Almost the Limit in Invention.

A log of wood and a roll of paper are placed in a new match-making machine, and when human hands next touch the material it is all bound up in packages containing one gross of boxes of matches, ready for the consumer. During the process the machine cuts the wood into proper lengths, sulphurs the ends, counts them, makes the paper boxes, prints the labels on them, fills each box and packs them. The machine has been patented by a Norwegian match company.

To Make Vesuvius Useful.

Artificial warming of the world is one of the greatest of modern problems and yet the earth is itself a vast furnace, whose flames are sometimes aggressively active and destructive. Italians are planning to use some of this heat. A boiler is to be installed at some point where the internal fires of Vesuvius are accessible and hot water is to be piped to the neighboring towns.

Willing Panhandler.

Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, was accosted one day by a drunken panhandler, who asked for a dime. The archbishop gave him the dime and said: "My friend, don't you think it would be possible for you to walk in the straight and narrow path?" The panhandler straightened up, "Who? me?" he asked. "Show it to me. I used to be a tight-rope walker."—Saturday Evening Post.

Should Have Some Superstition.

We would not give a rap for the person who is without all superstition. We would a little bit prefer the man whose superstitions are pessimistic to the one who is so exceedingly superior as to think there is no luck in life, no favor nor disfavor in anything that may happen or in any circumstance that may surround our lives.—Exchange.

Begin Early to Train Children.

It is habit alone that creates obedience in the child, and for the child, and if it is not formed early, nothing but hard, bitter "warfare" can ever promote it in its being. System is one of the noblest laws in evidence. It is the great "under study" for universal peace.

Making Opportunity.

When the young physician's motorcar reached the scene of the accident there was nothing to do; all the victims had been so slightly hurt that they were able to walk home. The young doctor was keenly disappointed, but his chauffeur spoke up cheerfully: "Never mind, doctor, I'll run down some business on the way home."

An Early Error.

"When Eve ate of the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil, she did not eat largely enough. We recognize Good and Evil, but we miss the finer shades."—"Grit Lawless," by F. E. Mills Young.

CRUSHING A NATION.

The Cambray League and the Fall of the Venetian Republic.

The League of Cambray was the political combination of continental Europe in 1508 against the Venetian republic, which tore from the "Queen of the Adriatic" her resplendent crown and forced to her lips the cup of deepest humiliation.

Back of the league and causing its formation were jealousy, ambition and the desire of crippling the proud people, whose history was the wonder and envy of the world. Too powerful to be overthrown by any single power, it was resolved that Venice should be crushed by the combined forces of all Europe.

During the terrible days of Attila, about A. D. 433, Venice was founded out among the lagoons of the Adriatic, where, it was felt, safety would be found from the ravages of the Hun. The history of the thousand years from the foundation of the city to the year 1508 reads like magic. Rising from the waves, Venice became the wonder of the world. Her navy cut the waters of every known sea. Her merchants were the greatest on earth. Her bank was the financial center of the world. Her palaces, which seemed to be floating upon the blue waters of the Adriatic, were the envy of the kings and queens of the continent. Wealth, fashion, splendor—their abode was Venice.

And so for more than ten centuries did Venice remain the glory of the world, the center of wealth, opulence and power, the home of culture and intelligence, the hearthstone about which sat the finest of the intellectual graces and hospitalities, and such she might have remained but for the League of Cambray, which, with its overwhelming forces, gave her the blow (at Agnadello in 1509) from which it was impossible for her to recover.

STORES IN BURMA.

You Can Make Purchases in Them if You Try Hard Enough.

You may walk through the muddy old markets of Rangoon for hours at a time or through the bazaar at Mandalay without any of the salespeople taking the slightest notice of you as a possible purchaser of their wares. The dear little ladies sit crosslegged upon long tables in front of the high cupboards containing their goods. They are placidly smoking or chatting or painting their faces or braiding their hair. They are not attending to business in the least.

If the European is conspicuously dressed or presents a figure which the Burman, with his finely trained sense of humor, considers at all ridiculous then a gay ripple of laughter passes along the stalls, and then indeed the would-be customer is noticed, but otherwise the tourist is an object of no interest whatever.

It requires a great effort to get a Burmese shopwoman to attend to nearly all women to show you her skirts, and when at last she has spread her merchandise broadest upon the table and you are reveling in the illusion that you are living in the middle of a rainbow, with a chance of holding fast to some of its colors, she will ask her price, which is seldom more than a rupee too much, and will stick to it like glue.

She is an indolent lady in many ways, who loves a quiet life, and she has determined that her most comfortable course is not to haggle in the market place. So you may make up your mind that bargaining and persuasion are useless arts to practice in Burma, however valuable they may be elsewhere.—Blackwood's Magazine.

Very Proud Indeed.

"Once," said a labor leader, "the garbage collectors in a small town struck for higher pay. While the strike was on the municipal employees—the cashiers and clerks—were called on to perform the collectors' work. As they went about the town doing this work, clad in high collars, patent leather shoes, kid gloves and fur lined overcoats, they attracted a good deal of attention. One old dame was heard to say:

"My goodness, the slop-men must have got that raise they struck for! Look what duds they are now! And so proud and cold like! They'll hardly speak to you as they take your slop."

Seven Wonders of the World.

"I wonder where he gets his money."

"I wonder how she can afford such clothes."

"I wonder if he is really in earnest."

"I wonder if she will be sitting up for me."

"I wonder if he thinks nobody suspects him."

"I wonder if she thinks the powder doesn't show."

"I wonder if he will ever propose."—Chicago Post.

PLEASANT EXCURSION TO INLET ON THE SWASTIKA.

W. E. Blodgett entertained another stag party very pleasantly Wednesday with an excursion to the inlet on board his cruising yacht, the Swastika, including an inviting dinner on the boat at noon time. Mr. Blodgett took the party out to the bar at the inlet three different times, but did not venture out to sea.

One of the features of the trip was the harpooning of a porpoise by Mr. Blodgett, the fish being estimated at 350 pounds or more. It was so late when the porpoise was captured, however, that it was not brought ashore.

The party, which it will be seen included several reverend gentlemen, was as follows: Rev. Robt. A. Tufft, Rev. Dr. B. F. Marsh, L. J. Jacques and Dr. S. P. Leland of this city, E. T. Merrill of Portland, Me., Rev. Charles F. Goss of Cincinnati, Ohio, Horace Goodhue of Northfield, Minn., and Dr. A. T. Bigelow, Seabreeze.

Simple Swimming Apparatus.
A swimming apparatus by means of which a person without any previous knowledge may pass through the water with perfect safety at the rate of sixteen miles an hour has been constructed by a French inventor. The apparatus consists of a plank about six feet long, with floats at each end. It can be folded and easily transported.

Ancient Ophel Potteries.
French savants carrying out extensive investigations in Jerusalem, on the southeastern slope of the Temple hill—the Ophel of Scripture—have discovered a number of very early tombs, some of which contained pottery considered to belong to the period of 3,000 B. C.

Ready Explanation.
"Judge, I ain't no vagrant. I'm in hard luck now, but I've seen better days." "But this officer says you have been arrested repeatedly." "He must be alludin' to the times when I owned me own automobile."

RESIDENTS SHOULD GUARD AGAINST SNEAK THIEVES

MONEY AND VALUABLES SHOULD
POSED AND WINDOWS AND DOORS UNFASTENED.

At this season of the year there are more or less crooks and sneak thieves working their way south to avoid the winter weather and prey upon the tourists who are flocking to the southland and greater care should be exercised by householders in seeing that money and valuables are not left carelessly exposed and that windows and doors are properly fastened.

Already there have been several apparent attempts and one successful robbery in which Mrs. E. A. Lapp of 62 Third avenue lost a five dollar bill and a ticket to the lyceum course at the First M. E. church, some sneak thief entering the residence before nightfall and taking the money and ticket.

Kitchen Eraser.
An ordinary blackboard eraser is splendid to keep near the kitchen range. By using it to wipe off the top, the range is kept clean and does not need to be washed or polished but once or twice a week. These erasers can be purchased at a very small cost.—Mother's Magazine.

Famous Indian Ghee.
Ghee, which is used as butter in India and which has been known to keep for centuries without getting rancid, is made by boiling butter until all the watery particles and curds have been removed by repeated skimming.

Roulette Wheel Concealed.
A roulette wheel contained in the handle of a parasol is the latest Parisian novelty. It can be used for gambling at any place or moment. These handles have become very popular. They are of fine workmanship, and generally of gold or silver.

Symbolism.
Symbolism is all right if the thing you have to say is not worth saying in good, plain English.

STRAWBERRIES IN MARKET FROM THE DESPLAND FARM.

The Conrad Grocery company offered for sale Thursday the first strawberries of the season, some very fine looking Excelsiors grown on the Despland farm by C. H. Lane, lessee of the place. Mr. Lane has quite a piece of the farm planted to strawberries and says they are doing very well and the prospect for a good crop is very promising.

Mr. Lane is also marketing several kinds of vegetables of very attractive appearance, including excellent lettuce, beets, turnips, onions, carrots, radishes, etc.

Rent Paid in Roses.
A bouquet of red roses was handed to the warden of St. Olave's grammar school, Tooley street, London, England, at the prize distribution, the other day, as the rent of a piece of land leased to trustees in 1656 for the benefit of the poor of the parish. The lease was for "a term of 500 years at the yearly rent of a red rose payable at midsummer if lawfully demanded."

Telephones in Asia.
It is estimated that in Asia there are about 170,000 telephones, mostly in Japan. The number in Singapore exceeds one thousand, and there are about as many in Siam and Coochin China.

No Signs on That Road.
There are no signboards along the road to success. We have to paint our own, as those who have found the road are generally too busy to attend to the matter.

Work.
Man must work. That is certain as the sun. But he may work grudgingly, or he may work gratefully, or he may work as a machine. He cannot always choose his work, but he can do it in a generous temper and with an up-looking heart. There is no work so rude that he may not exalt it; there is no work so unimpressive that he may not breathe a soul into it; there is no work so dull that he may not enliven it.—Henry Giles.

Telling the Age of a Horse.
The age of a horse may be judged by the appearance of the teeth because on the upper surface of the incisors a hollow is to be seen in the young tooth, which, not extending through the whole substance, naturally wears out with the wear of the tooth, and as a considerable degree of regularity occurs in the wearing away in all horses, it has been adopted as a general criterion of age.

Women's Valuable Thoughts.
Among the first American patents taken out by women were those for a fountain pen, a baby jumper, and the first cook stove. Mrs. Ada Van Pelt of late years invented a permutation lock with three thousand combinations. A woman invented a process of making horseshoes which saved the country $25,000,000 in fourteen years. Another woman was offered $20,000 for her paper bag process.

Thoughts on Education.
Educated people are often so stupid as to make one doubt whether the poor can gain all by education. But, on the other hand, uneducated people are often so wise that we fear they have something to lose, even if they have nothing to gain, by being educated. In short, the modern methods of political reform, even when they have done well, have not done so obviously well that it is certain to be a benefit to extend them.

British North Borneo.
British North Borneo has an area of 31,000 square miles and a population, according to the census of 1911, of 208,183. The European residents number 355, Chinese 26,202, Malays, 1,612, East Indians 5,511 and Filipinos 5,700. The number of natives cannot be more than approximately estimated but their number is placed at about 170,000.

Practical Has to Be Looked To.
A journalist talked recently with a struggling composer. He inquired whether the words of the great masters did not inspire the musician. The musician granted that they did, but that they do not inspire confidence in landlords when the rent was due, an occasion for which it was well to be prepared even if you had to play cheap melodies to do it.

The Good Never Dies.
There is nothing, no nothing, innocent or good that dies and is forgotten. An infant—a prattling child dying in its cradle—will live again in better thoughts of those who loved it, and play its part through them, in the redeeming actions of the world, though its body be burnt to ashes and drowned in the deepest sea.

Rest Periods a Necessity.
The importance of rest periods in school work and of as much fresh air as possible is emphasized by recent scientific investigations, which have shown that the condition of the blood corpuscles in children is far less favorable after mental exertion in school than after hard physical effort.

Increasing Speed of Propeller.
An officer of the United States navy has found that the power of a high-speed vessel's propeller is increased about ten per cent. by placing ribs on the faces of its blades to decrease the partial vacuum that always occurs there.

No Coercion.
"Are you a party boss?" "Certainly not," replied the local despot. "I simply tell the boys how I am going to vote, and then tell them to vote as they please. But heaven help them if they don't please to vote the way I do."

Goodness, No.
First Week-End Guest—"Would you ask our hostess to lend us the motor?" Second Week-End Guest—"Good heavens, no. I'd as soon think of asking her for a piece of string!"—Life.

Difficult Lesson.
Motorman—"What do you think is the most difficult thing for a beginner to learn about an automobile?" Frankenstein—"To keep from talking about it all the time."—Toledo Blade.

Montessori Method Defined.
Probably you have heard vague rumors in the publications of this country—daily, weekly and monthly—of the "Montessori Method." Have you ever wondered just what this phrase means? Well, here is the answer, simply and directly expressed. Are you ready? The Montessori Method is the education of the stereognostic sense, alias the visual perception of differences and dimensions, in children of pre-kindergarten age. That's all there is to it.

Smallest Book in the World.
The smallest book in the world is in the library of congress, always under lock and key. It is a copy of the Rubayat of Omar Khayyam. The tiny volume was made by Nathan Dale of Cleveland, O. It was photographed each page separately. Four books of the same size would just cover a postage stamp. Three hundred of them would weigh a pound.

Billeted Himself on Society.
"I haven't done any work, and I don't intend ever to do any more. They have had the best of my days in prison, and they will have to keep me for the rest of my life," said a burglar at the London sessions.

Use for Adhesive Plaster.
If a pane of glass in the window is cracked and you fear the winter's blast will blow it in over night, or a summer's rain and wind storm will shatter the remainder, patch it up with adhesive plaster until the glazier can put in a new pane.

Grateful for Sentence.
"Thank yer. May the Lord bless yer. May yer head never ache!" said a woman sentenced to ten months' hard labor to the judge.

PICTURES IN THE CAPITOL

Among the most interesting features of the Capitol at Washington are the numerous paintings of departed statesmen and events of importance in our national history. In the wide gallery back of the house of representatives are portraits of the various speakers of the house. The likeness of each speaker is hung in this hall of fame upon his retirement from office.

The portrait of every speaker can be found there, with but one exception. The missing face is that of Nathaniel Marion of North Carolina, who was speaker from 1805 to 1807. Marion was a modest, unassuming man of simple manners, attired always in the coarse homespun of the day, although an exceptionally able official. A lover of horses and cattle, he entered the pedigree of his own blooded stock in his family Bible. Marion never posed for his picture. Although every effort has been made to discover a portrait of him, the search has been without avail.

A service of barely five minutes in the speaker's chair won for one man a space on the wall of this gallery. Schuyler Colfax, speaker of the house, was elected vice president and took the oath of office on the 4th of March, 1869. On the morning of that day Colfax resigned the speakership, and Theodore M. Pomeroy of New York was elected speaker for the remainder of the session.

The picture of Thomas B. Reed was painted during the last year of his term of office. When it was shown to him he looked at it critically. He noticed the protruding lips, the drooping complexion, the heavy, faded cheeks and mature neck.

His words partly choked and his countenance grew cold. Slowly and with his immitable drawl he said: "I hope that my dearest enemy is satisfied now."

Of the many portraits from life in the Capitol the most valuable is one of the Gilbert Stuart pictures of Washington. There are two portraits of Washington by Stuart. One of these Stuart portraits of Washington cost the government $5,000. This is the most expensive portrait in the Capitol. However, other pictures in the building have been infinitely more expensive. For instance, the great "Marble of Lake Erie," at the turn of the senate stair case, showing Commodore Perry leaving his flagship at the height of the battle, cost $25,000.

As Others See Us.

He came into the bar with swagger, took the only vacant seat with outward manifestations of his belief in his own importance, sipping the big whisky toddy, and looking at the people who came in to him, he would make the bar his headquarters. The bar was a place of great importance, and he was a man of great importance. He was a man of great importance, and he was a man of great importance.

Preparation of Z.

The pronunciation of the letter Z is a matter of great importance. The English pronunciation is not the same as the Greek pronunciation. The English pronunciation is not the same as the Greek pronunciation. The English pronunciation is not the same as the Greek pronunciation.

Unkind Suggestion.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said the manager, before the curtain, "it is my unpleasant duty to inform you that Mr. C—, the star comedian, owing to illness, will not be able to appear tonight. His system has had a severe shock, and he is suffering from nervous prostration. 'What's the matter?' shouted one of the gods from the gallery. 'Did ye pay him in advance?'"

Sugar in Diet.

Speaking of the importance of sugar in children's diet, Dr. Woods Hutchinson says: "It is not unlikely that the almost universal and devoutly to be thankful lack of craving for alcohol in children and in women is due largely to the sweet tooth possessed by them and their indulgence in candy, cakes, fruit, ice creams and sweetmeats generally."

Loose Photographs.

Stenciled linen makes a very good case for photographs if a book is not wanted. The case folds and looks like a book cover, but inside are pockets of different size for the various pictures. A stenciled border of plain color or around the edge, with a design in the center, is sufficient decoration. Gray linen or crash are excellent materials to use, as they are very durable.

STATE HAPPENINGS

News from Fair Florida Briefly Told

An automatic telephone system is soon to be installed at Tampa.

Charles H. Smith, one of the oldest and most influential citizens of Jacksonville, died yesterday morning after a long illness.

Tampa has just made and passed a new building code which will result in the lowering of insurance rates and the better protection of property.

The board of trade at Orlando has gone on record as opposed to the division of Orange county as proposed by Sanford people, who want a separate county and county seat.

The grand jury of Duval county has returned four true bills against Chairman C. W. Ellis of the Duval county board of supervisors, the charge being that of accepting bribes.

Residents in the vicinity of Fayetteville in Lafayette county have sent out an appeal for assistance because of the destruction of crops by the heavy rains of the spring and summer.

The board of county commissioners of St. Johns county has received bids for the construction of a new concrete bridge over Oyster creek. The bid of C. M. Milburn of $2,194 for the bridge complete was the lowest.

Twelve carloads of lettuce were shipped in one day this week from Sanford. There has been no advance in price as yet in the markets in the east and west, the price ranging from 75 cents to $1.25.

Dr. Herman Harrell Horne of the University of New York and Prof. L. C. Coffman of the University of Illinois will be the principal speakers at the meeting of the Florida Educational association in Ocala December 31 to January 2.

The Atlantic Coast Line railroad has announced the changes in its schedules to take effect the first of the year and has arranged its train service to handle the biggest tourist business in the history of the state.

Dolphus Tidwell, the young son of W. O. Tidwell of Bushnell, had his arm so badly injured while hunting that it was necessary to amputate the member above the elbow. The boy laid the gun on a log to pick up some birds he had shot and the weapon was discharged, the whole charge of shot striking him in the arm.

The city council of Pensacola, sitting as a committee of the whole, exonerated the board of health, the board of public works and the board of public safety of the charges of "rottenness" and "putridness" in the conduct of the workings of these departments, as implied in an assertion of Alderman O. J. Semmes at a former meeting of the council.

Considerable mystery surrounds the death of Howe Hampton, who shot himself in the mouth at Tampa. Some hint at suicide, but the members of the family insist the shooting was an accident. The young man was studying medicine to follow in the footsteps of his father and four brothers. Relatives say he was playing with the revolver and was trying to scare his sisters when the weapon was accidentally discharged.

Developments in the Thomas Maher drowning case on the dredge Swann at St. Petersburg last Sunday have brought forth a charge of murder against Henry Findlay, a member of the crew, who is now being held without bail in the city jail as an accessory in the crime. James Morley, another member of the crew, who is said to have been more responsible for the death of Maher than any other member of the crew, disappeared immediately after the drowning and the authorities are now searching for him.

Might Get Even With Mosquito. An observer in India has found a small fly of the midge class with its proboscis inserted in the abdomen of a mosquito, engaged in sucking the mosquito's blood. There is comfort, if not benefit, in this bit of news. Why can't we import this midge? The mosquitoes would know how it is themselves then, perhaps.—Farm and Fireside.

Historic Blackguards

By Albert Payson Terhune

Jean Lafitte, and the "Pirate Trust"

TWO young Frenchmen—Jean and Pierre Lafitte—started a blacksmith shop in New Orleans in 1809. They had not the look or manner of blacksmiths. Probably Jean—a JEAN LAFITTE splendid, handsome giant, the hero of this story—never welded hammer or shod a horse in all his career. Instead, he made negro slaves do the rough work while he strolled about the city and planned bigger enterprises.

Jean Lafitte was a blackguard. But he was a manly, likeable blackguard. And, once at least, he did our country valiant service. He was a pirate. Yet some historians say he went to sea but twice in his life—once when he came from France to New Orleans as a youth and once when he sailed away from America in 1820, never again to be heard of. Others say it was Pierre who set sail in 1820 and who perished somewhere in the ocean, while Jean went to Yucatan and lived six years longer in ill-earned luxury. The fact remains that there is no absolute knowledge as to whence Jean Lafitte came or whether he vanished. He was a man of mystery.

Louisiana in those days consisted largely of rich, unsettled land. Into these waste spaces the pioneers sprang to come. Huge plantations sprang up. To work the plantations there was need for thousands of negro slaves. And the slave trade between Africa and America thrived tremendously. A negro that cost $20 in his African jungle could often be sold for $1,000 in the New Orleans market. Then the United States declared the horrible African slave trade illegal. This stopped the imports. The planters clamored for more slaves. Gangs of smugglers met the demand by secretly buying slaves intended for Spain's Cuban and South American plantations and landing them by night in the Louisiana bayous. There was money in this sort of business. More than in blacksmithing. So, the Lafitte brothers became slave smugglers.

Then Jean's fertile brain still further improved his business in a rather original way. What was the use of buying negroes from the Spanish slave ships off the Cuban coast when, by seizing those ships, he could get the negroes for nothing? It was a clever idea and he at once put it into practice. He also seized vessels laden with other valuables, and altogether he prospered exceedingly. Lafitte himself did not go in search of such prey. He was a business man, not a cheap sea rover. By this time he had a number of good ships and nearly one thousand men to send on his piratical errands. He had a fortified town and harbor of his own at Barataria and made that place his headquarters. Jean had marvelous control over his men, and though he seldom troubled himself to fight, he was unconquerable. One night a band of mutineers attacked him in his cabin. Lafitte, single-handed, slew six of them and beat off the rest.

The pirates called Lafitte, behind his back, "The Old Man." To his face they called him "Boss" (meaning literally "prominence"). And thus the word "boss" came into our own language. He seldom spoke to his men except when he had to and held aloof from them.

By judicious bribes to the right authorities he managed to steer clear of active prosecution, though countless governmental threats were hurled at him. When the British planned their attack on New Orleans in the War of 1812 they offered Jean Lafitte a captain's commission and $30,000 to join them with his men. Instead of accepting, he sent word of the offer (and of the British plot against New Orleans) to the American government, volunteering his services in exchange for a pardon. The British, in revenge, destroyed his Barataria stronghold and seized his ships. But the American general, Andrew Jackson (after cursing him for a "hellish bandit") accepted Lafitte's offer. And the pirate fought bravely for America in the battle of New Orleans, receiving a pardon for all past crimes.

After the war Lafitte went blithely back to his old ways. With his men he settled on an abandoned island, where now stands the city of Galveston, and made that place his new headquarters. Thus he was in a sense the real founder of Galveston. He hit on an odd way to sell his smuggled slaves. He would arrange for Colonel Bowie (inventor of the bowie knife) to seize them from him and to take them to New Orleans. There, as confiscated goods, they were placed on sale, and Lafitte and Bowie each reaped a goodly profit.

A visitor to the pirate lair wrote: "Gold pieces are as plentiful here as biscuits." In 1820 the government captured Lafitte's Galveston camp and hanged many of his followers.

TERRIFIED THE SHAH.

The Persian Monarch Suddenly Lost All Interest in Radium. Radium, most mysterious of the new mysteries in modern science, is so familiar to unscientific men that the panic of the oriental potentate described in a recent book by M. Xavier Paoli, a French detective, is easily understood.

Once while in Paris the shah of Persia, Muzaffar-ed-din, expressed a wish to know something of Professor Curie's famous discovery. M. Paoli made the necessary arrangements. Complete darkness is of course needed if radium is to reveal itself in all its brilliancy. With endless trouble Paoli persuaded the monarch to descend into one of the hotel cellars that had been arranged for the purpose.

But at length his majesty, with all his suit, proceeded to the underground apartment. Professor Curie closed the door, switched off the electric light and uncovered his specimen of radium. Suddenly a shout of terror between the roar of a bull and the yell of a man being murdered rang out and was echoed by a hundred others.

"Amid general excitement and consternation," writes M. Paoli, "we hung ourselves upon the electric switches and turned on the lights."

"Then we beheld a strange spectacle. In the midst of the prostrate Persians, with his arms around the neck of the grand vizier and his round pupils dilated to their very rims, stood the shah, shouting at the top of his voice in Persian:

"Come away! Come away!" "The switching on of the light calmed his mad terror as if by magic. Realizing the disappointment and chagrin he had caused M. Curie, the shah tried to compensate him by the offer of a decoration. But the austere man of science," concludes Paoli, "thought fit to decline it."

BUILT UPON QUICKSAND.

It Makes a Firm Foundation for Many New York Skyscrapers. Quicksand, to the popular mind a lurking monster that swallows up the unwary, while often treacherous, has been safely built upon, and several of the second class skyscrapers in New York rest directly upon it. It is necessary at the outset to correct the popular idea about quicksand. The engineer's definition of quicksand is any loose, friable material saturated with water. There are different kinds of quicksand, just as there are different kinds of wood, varying from nearly as treacherous as the popular idea of it to a material that may be safely built upon.

The ground in the lower end of Manhattan Island is a quicksand extending from the surface to a maximum depth of eighty feet below Broadway. It will bear three tons per square foot, and the foundations of many tall buildings rest upon it. Filled in ground is one of the poorest materials on which to build, as for years after it has been deposited it will continue to settle, and obviously any structure it carries must settle with it.

Ordinary ground will bear safely from two to four tons per square foot. Dry clay from four to six tons per square foot, good gravel from six to ten tons and bedrock from 50 to 200 tons per square foot. Sand if confined will stand very large pressures, and similarly water, the most unsuitable of all, if it could be restrained, would be capable of resisting an enormous pressure. Certainly no force man has produced is sufficient to injure its structure.—Strand Magazine.

Mount Etna. Mount Etna is one of the great volcanoes of the earth. It is great in size, great in activity, great in beauty. In size it would cover the entire metropolitan district of New York and the surrounding counties. Its height is 11,000 feet above sea level. As to its power, one of these eruptions some centuries ago killed 80,000 people, which is probably more than Vesuvius has ever done in all its existence as a volcano, not excepting the great eruption of 79 A. D., which destroyed the cities of Herculaneum and Pompeii. As to its beauty, this is also very difficult to describe. It is teeming with life, animal and vegetable, and is snow covered one-half the year. The other half it is bare to its very summit.—Christian Herald.

The Gate to Tibet. Just outside Tachienlu is the stone bridge which is called "the gate to Tibet." Tachienlu is a narrow little city which had to conform its shape to the contour of the mountains which shut it in. There is hardly a foot of level ground within the walls. It is the great emporium of trade between China and Tibet, where the Chinese exchange tea for musk and gold dust. Many red frocked lamas are to be seen about the city, most of whom live in large lamaseries outside the walls. On the flat roofs of the houses there are numerous prayer flags, driven to the winds the universal Tibetan token of praise.

Berlin's Big Restaurant. Imagine a restaurant costing $70,000,000. The Rhineland, in Berlin, accommodates more than 4,000 persons at one time, giving employment to 1,600 persons, of whom eighty-five are cooks. At this place it is possible to eat a good dinner for 30 cents and at any price from that up.—Chicago Post.

Valuation of Corn Bread. Doctors say that eating corn bread is good for the teeth. It might be added that it is also good for the entire system.—Pittsburg Post.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hill of Hendersonville, N. C., are guests at the Troy hotel and will probably remain here for the winter. They have many friends in this city and vicinity who will be pleased to know that are here again for the season.

Mrs. F. A. Newell and daughter, Miss Edith Newell, arrived Thursday evening and are occupying their winter home, 32 North Ridgewood avenue, for the season. Mrs. Newell and daughter have been traveling during the summer months, the forepart of the season in the north-east and later in the far northwest and California, but came to Daytona from Chicago, Ill. They still greatly prefer Florida to California as a place of winter residence.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Bennett arrived Thursday evening from Boston, Mass., and joined Mr. Bennett's parents and other members of the family at their hotel property, the Tourist, on South Palmetto avenue. For several seasons Mr. Bennett has held a position as telegraph operator at the F. E. C. railway passenger deppot.

Mrs. Theresa Hadcock Faurot died at one of the local hospitals at noon today, aged 64 years. The body will be taken north tomorrow morning for interment at her home, Oneida, N. Y., accompanied probably by the deceased's son, Henry Faurot, and wife, who arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from Chicago.

Mrs. T. J. LeGras, a niece of Mrs. Jennie Gardiner, of Myrtle avenue, and her daughters, the Misses Dona and Marie LeGras, who have been visiting Mrs. and Miss Gardiner and G. H. Gardiner and family for the past month, departed this morning on their return to Toronto, Canada.

"Home, Sweet Home."
The original manuscript of "Home, Sweet Home" is said to have been buried in the grave with Miss Harry Harden of Athens, Ga. She was John Howard Payne's sweetheart, but refused to marry him in deference to her father's wishes. After she was separated from her lover she shut herself in the old family mansion, seeing none but a few members of the little church to which she belonged. Independent.

Life's Fullness.
Every day ought to have the thought of large things in it—the power of wide horizons. But every day must have the routine of small things in it. To harmonize the two is often hard and discouraging. Yet only in lives that combine steadfast duty with wide vision is the fullness of life realized.—Phillips Brooks.

Would Be More Important.
A scientist declares that the speed mania has converted a great many automobilists into nervous wrecks. We would like to have him diagnose the case of the man who has to dodge them.—New York Herald.

Raccoons Natural Thieves.
If you have raccoons in your home, keep a watchful eye on all articles within reach of the animals. They will steal anything from a pocket knife to a diamond ring. Notwithstanding the trouble necessitated by guarding against the mischievous habits of the creatures, they are members of many households. They are fond of milk, and will resort to all sorts of tricks and subterfuges to obtain it.

Siberian Land Threatened.
Extensive tracts of land in Siberia are threatened by the encroachment of the great Gobi desert, and a plan has now been drawn up for a series of forest ramparts to hold back the salt and drift. The only effective defense, according to the report of agronomists sent to survey the region is in tree belts at least two miles broad. It is proposed to plant one of these from Samara to the Caspian sea, while others are recommended extending in intervals of about 40 miles right up to the Chinese frontier.

Artificial Sapphires.
The chemical composition of the synthetic sapphire is the same as that of the natural sapphires. The only difference is that the real sapphire is crystallized, while the artificial sapphire is fused alumina or alumina glass. Between artificial and real sapphires there is just such a difference as there is between potato sugar and rock candy.—Harper's Weekly.

Charcoal Eph's Philosophies.

R. L. SMITH

Philosopher on Marriage.
According to Herbert Spencer, love between man and woman arises from each serving as the representative of the other's ideal. This ideal must be preserved if love is to remain, and to insure its preservation there should be not less, but greater, regard for appearances between husband and wife than between any other people. Equality of rights should also be recognized. A man cannot regard as his type of the ideal one whom he tries to command, and whom he has lowered by denying an equality of privilege with himself.

Divided Old Island.
Windmill island occupied a position in the Delaware river between Philadelphia and Camden. A channel that was cut through the island for the passage of ferryboats divided it. One-half was afterward known as Smith's Island, the property having been acquired by a family of that name. It was on Smith's island that the resort known as Ridgway Park was located. Both islands were removed by the government for the purpose of deepening the channel in 1894.

In a Hammock With Browning.
The Spring Hill New Era tells of a young lady down there who was visiting with her aunt in the country. She came in late in the afternoon and her aunt asked her where she had been. "In the hammock all the afternoon," she responded, "with my beloved Robert Browning." The aunt eyed her steadily. Then she said: "If I hear of any more such scandalous proceedings I shall write to your mother."—Topeka Capital.

Children Taught Cobbling.
Cobbling is recognized as a trade in the vocational schools of Buffalo. Several schools are set aside for teaching trades to young boys and girls, and the latest addition to the course is one in cobbling. A competent instructor has been engaged to teach the young men how to repair shoes. There are a number taking up the course, and it is certain that the trade will not become extinct with the young generation studying the principles of rejuvenating old shoes.

For the Invalid.
A sizeable shoe bag with several pockets is just the thing for the sick room, but not in its original capacity. Pin it firmly to the side of the bed, within reach; then it is convenient for the invalid to slip into its various pockets books, papers, handkerchiefs, or any of the other things which she uses, and which are not only apt to get lost on the bed, but when on the bed give an appearance of disorder.

Highest and Lowest Points.
The highest point in the United States is the summit of Mount Whitney, California, 14,501 feet above the sea level. From this spot one may look down upon the lowest point in the United States, only ninety-two miles distant, but 276 feet below the sea level, a difference in altitude of 14,000 feet. This lowest point is in Death Valley.

Her Faith Lost.
A little Boston girl was coaxed to own to her aunt that she had done something which she ought not, and which she stoutly denied. Finally, such undeniable proof of her guilt was put up before her that she could no longer keep her denial. She turned to her aunt, and said: "Well, Aunt Kittle, you tan't trust anybody, nowadays!"

Most Prized of Gems.
The sapphires of Ceylon are among the most beautiful gems in the world. They range from soft, velvety blue to peacock blue, graduating to almost faultless white. Sapphires are also found in greens and yellows, the former shade being known as the Oriental emerald, and the latter as the Oriental topaz. There is also a red sapphire, or Ceylon ruby, which is as valuable as the finest Burmese rubies.

Truth About Proud Man.
"When a man gets with his head at high water, he gets with his feet under the water," said a wise old man. "He is so full of himself that he can't see his own feet."—Baltimore Sun.

Saving Patent Leather.
Patent leather shoes and slippers will last twice as long if you wipe them off occasionally with a soft cloth that has been wrung out of olive oil. Keep the cloth in a small tin box, one that has a cover, and the oil will last a long time.

was the first intimation Mr. Schmidt had that the checks might be worthless and he immediately started an investigation. Today he received word from the Lumberman's National bank that both checks had been protested because of "no funds."

In the meantime the Burns detective caught the next train for Miami, and Mr. Schmidt wired the sheriff of Dade county to capture and hold Mr. Davis. It was too late, however, as Mr. Davis and wife had already left the Magic City and were on their way to either Cuba or South America.

At Miami the Burns man gave up the search and passed through Daytona last night on his way back to Atlanta. The detective had traced Davis to Jacksonville and St. Augustine and from there to Palatka, where he had attempted to get a check cashed and failed, and then to Daytona. The detective says that in Georgia the man went by the names of Meyers, but when he got into the territory where he formerly traveled as a cigar salesman and was known he resumed the name of Davis.

HUNTERS RETURNED WITH COUPLE OF YEARLING BUCKS

Ernest Kreitzberg and his son-in-law, Bernard Geiger, returned by train Thursday from Espanola in the vicinity of which place they had been hunting since Tuesday in company with Mr. Kreitzberg's regular guide, James Bennett, of Ormond. Two nice yearling bucks were secured, both being shot when the party first went out on Tuesday and were later waggoned in by Mr. Bennett. Mr. Geiger really took no part in the actual hunting, merely looking after camp affairs for the others.

Human Nature.
"Why is it," asked the curious guest, "that poor men usually give larger tips than rich men?" "Well, sah," said the waiter, who was something of a philosopher as well, "looks to me like de po' man don't want nobody to find out he's po', and de rich man don't want nobody to find out he's rich."—Youth's Companion.

About the Same.
"Bilkins is a terrific worker, is he not?" said Binks. "Just wedded to his pen, eh?" "I don't know about his pen, but I do know he's married to his typewriter," said Harkaway.—Harper's Weekly.
